HIGHWAY DEPT. RADIOS APPROVED TUESDAY AT SPECIAL BETHEL MEETING

At a special town meeting on Tuesday evening, voters attending approved the purchase of two-way FM radios for the Bethel Highway Department. William Cousins was the moderator of the meeting held at Bingham Auditorium, Gould Academy. Twenty-two voters attended the one hour session.

The $5,570 raised and appropriated at the Tuesday meeting will provide funds for the purchase of one base remote unit (to be connected to the present base unit at the Fire Station), four mobile units; one combination mobile/portable unit with console; and one mobile/portable console. A request for $7,570 for highway department radios was turned down by a 68-64 vote at the March annual meeting. The special meeting request included a lesser number of units than was the case in March.

The voters also approved a "Fire Department Ordinance" the provisions of which repealed any existing ordinances that might be in conflict with the ordinance enacted on Tuesday. Changes were necessary to conform with recent State Statute changes and to improve the town's and the firefighters liability insurance protection. The ordinance deals primarily with the appointment, duties and compensation of the fire chief, fire officers, and firefighters. Department rules and regulations are to be developed by the department and approved by the Board of Selectmen to deal with the administrative operation of the department.

Also approved was an ordinance to "Establish Fees for Victim's Licenses in the Town of Bethel." It requires that all innkeepers and victualers be licensed by a Municipal Licensing Board consisting of the Selectmen, Town Treasurer and Town Clerk. The ordinance establishes a minimum of $5 and a maximum of $10 for victualer's licenses granted by the town, according to the following schedule: a. Lunch counters, diners, etc., $5; b. Year round restaurants under 50 seating capacity, $7.50; c. Year round restaurants over 50 seating capacity, $10; d. All part time restaurants and lunch counters shall pay one-half the price upon opening seasonal operation of business.

Both of the ordinances were effective immediately upon enactment by the town.

The resolution to "Amend the Flood Hazard Building Permit and Review Procedure Adopted by Town Vote on March 3, 1975" was tabled, with further action scheduled no later than the 1978 annual meeting. A representative of the Flood Insurance Administration is to meet with the Bethel Planning Board in the near future to attempt to formulate a set of amendments that will be acceptable to the Flood Control Administration, yet be workable for the residents of the community.

South Woodstock

Olive Davis, Corres.

The pupils who danced for the Ledgeview Memorial Home patients consisted of three of our local girls, Liz Scott, Pam Bean, Theresa Wilbur, we are proud to say.

Gary Andrews and Linda Speed called on Gary's aunt Olive Davis Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young called on Friday morning. They came from their home in New Jersey May 28 and are at their camp in Bryant Pond for a couple of months vacation.

The Willing Workers met at the church interested ones present.

Barbara Scott, Esther Davis, Olive Davis, Barbara Cash, Carol Stowell were there. Business was talked over and considered. Another meeting will be called later. We hope more will turn out.

It's that season again. I was in Albany to the Pingree lot in Songo Pond cemetery Sunday where I tried to dress up the stones with flowers. During my travels I called on Ethel MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Doyen, Mrs. Ted Wheeler, Esther Strughold, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant. I made other calls but found no one home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis attended Bear River Grange, Newry, Saturday night. It was CWA night there.

Our warm weather vanished. We had rain Saturday which was just what was needed although the broadcasters proclaim fair weather. This moisture will help the gardeners as many have not planted because of this dryness.

Several from this end of town attended the Memorial Exercises at Bryant Pond Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements and boys were in Belfast yesterday where they visited with his and her parents for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Taisto Koskela have been remodeling their kitchen.

Ernest Campbell and Marilyn Finnegan of Mexico called on Guyson Davis one day this week.

David Clements took his first canoe trip down the Androscoggin above Berlin, N. H., with a group last Friday and Saturday.

On Sunday he was in bowling tournament at South Paris (North East Candlepin Tournament). After school closes he will be going to Boys State at Orono. This is sponsored by the American Legion.

We are sorry to hear of Donald Whitman's passing. Our sympathy is extended to his family.

Sunday River

Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres.

Alva Morrison's mother and sister have been with him most of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Verrill of Concord, Mass., are at their place for a week or so.

Darnita Yates was home over the week end from her studies at Berlin, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Farrell and Mary called on Eva Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Blake.

Mrs. Robert Bates called on Eva Yates and Russell, Saturday.

Russell Yates came home from the hospital Monday and seems to be doing real well without his leg.

Linda Harrington can get about outdoors and do some shopping.

David Fleet was away from Tuesday until Friday afternoon.

A very nice rain was had Saturday afternoon and evening.

North Paris

Eveline Barrett, Corres.

David Littlehale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Littlehale, has finished his college course, graduated, and is home.

Many comments were heard on the sudden change of the weather. Many of the lilacs are all rusty looking. The flowering crab tree near the community hall has faded and passed on. The honey-suckle bush used to be a dark pink, this year it is almost white but the bees like it.

I read with interest of the return to Bethel of Dr. John Young and the opening of his office.

I am glad that I didn't buy a swim suit when we had the short heat wave. I hope that doesn't mean that we have had our summer.

Phil Hyam had another heart attack so he was in intensive care unit for several days. He is more comfortable now.

"Root" Lawrence is improving. He is able to get out a bit but the knee is still swollen and painful.

Herbert and Jackie Stevens went to Smithville to an auction.

Many from our little hamlet will miss the laundromat at West Paris which closed the doors May 29. Some say the building will be demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski spent Tuesday evening with the Barretts. They had been planting some in the garden and had a lot of bumps from the bugs.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

It was too dry for May. The fire warnings were out. There were bad fires. The duff under the pines had grown underous, the balsams had a resinous smell. Only the ferns themselves gave off floor level coolness. When I held my hand under one, I could feel the cool invisible moisture. They have a built-in air-conditioning so the forest floor stays cooler than tree tops or sunbaked meadows.

It was a taut time, hoping for rain. Then Saturday dawned with a gray sky. The pond was as still as ice. Rain did not begin until mid afternoon. Everything seemed to be waiting with mouths open. The smell of dry earth and moisture was a glorious aroma.

Now things could live with new vigor. Rain on the pines clung like silver and followed heading twigs then down the needles. Each kind of tree had its own way of taking care of the raindrops according to its leafage. The tune was gentle, unlike the pounding on the roof.

Most of the week I have spent out working on the lawns or the gardens. One day I was removing ferns from among my rose bushes; they were so thick. Flying up from among them came armies of mosquitoes. I had read that the female mosquito like the black fly, requires a blood meal in order to produce eggs. For a species to survive, it must reproduce, and the biting female are simply attempting to fulfill their biological destiny. There surely were plenty of females in this "form army"; at least I thought so before I had all the ferns removed. I sometimes wondered if I were bitten by a mosquito or caught on a rose briar.

While working I saw the big handsome Hycatchers. They are about robin-size with a stubby rust crest, sulphur-yellow breast and green-brown and red-brown back and wings. I had heard them for a long time shrieking and wheeping. They were gathering what seemed to be lichens, filling their beaks until they had long trailing mustaches. They flew toward the woods. I was hoping that they would stop at the old dead elm on the side of the hill which is riddled with holes. But, no, they went from sight. Shortly the male returned, ruffed his crest and screamed his "WHEEP-WHEEP!" He turned a somersault to catch a moth, succeeded, and with it, again dashed away.

Now is the world's holiday time with its green foliage, wistful skies, flowers brightening fields, and warbling birds.

The bob-o-links have returned to their favorite haunts in the farm fields. What beauty of form and chords they displayed on a new seeded piece. There seemed to be an army of them helping themselves to the grass seeds while their songs bubbled their happiness. Notes tumbled out with headlong rapidity. They are most pleasing characters and their music among the finest in the field.

The catbird visited me with his harsh complaining cry while again he was a fountain of music. I always enjoy him as he glides with short easy flight to gain a tree bough, then pauses to watch me Homestead on the week end.
